KATE KLEIN, HOST:

Hi everybody. This is Kate from the TLX just popping into your feed to let you know of a new series we'll be hosting on The Xchange podcast called Teaching and Learning Mailbag, but we're going to need your help to make it happen. Do you have a non-time-sensitive question about teaching and learning? Something that you've been wondering about or confused about, that you'd like some feedback or a new perspective on?

Maybe it's about assessment, classroom facilitation, educational technology, equity and accessibility in your courses, student engagement, Universal Design for Learning. Whatever your question is, we'd love to hear from you. You can record a short voice message for us under 90 seconds with your question. And if we think we have something to offer about the topic, we'll find a qualified person on our team to answer on the Xchange podcast.

To leave your voicemail message, go to speak pipe com slash exchange mailbag and we'll put that link down in the show notes. And then just click "Start Recording". You'll have a chance to listen to your message before you send it so that you can feel good about it. And you can leave your name and department in your message.

Or you can send your message anonymously, whatever works best for you. Thanks everybody and looking forward to hearing your questions.
