

Commas: Practice

Place a comma in the appropriate place.

1. "The girl is gone" he whispered "you didn't see her?"
2. Although we understood what he was saying we didn't know what he meant.
3. Because they had never seen snow in their lives the tourists took lots of pictures.
4. Everyone believed Harry except for the minister.
5. George Brown is located in Toronto Canada.
6. I would never eat raw meat no matter what.
7. Marley was waving her brand-new fresh hot-off-the-presses diploma as she greeted her family happily.
8. Ms. Smith has proven herself to be a kind organized and fair supervisor.
9. On March 19 1644 two hundred members of the Peking royal family committed suicide.
10. On the second day of training I learned how to enter records into the computer system.
11. People use cars not only to commute but also to communicate.
12. Stanley however had never been to the hospital.
13. Taking the time to learn a second language has a lot of advantages such as improved brain function career opportunities and greater cultural understanding.
14. The athlete said he was injured yet no paramedics came to help him.
15. The house in the picture which was the very same one I grew up in was torn down last year.
16. The nurse saw that the patient was in pain so she recommended more pain medication.
17. They arrived on time but the teacher marked them absent.
18. This is your assignment isn't it?
19. Under the scrutiny of the assessors the student tried to remember everything that she had studied.
20. Unless I receive a higher salary I will not continue working here.
21. Walking around the room I felt like everyone was watching me very closely.
22. We retraced our steps looking everywhere for the lost cell phone.
23. You can get help with grammar writing and references when you come to the TLC.
24. Your references were accurate and you proofread your essay before handing it in.
25. I'm hungry; Let's eat Grandpa.
26. After we found out he lied about his credentials we asked him to leave.

Commas: Practice

Answers:

1. "The girl is gone," he whispered, "you didn't see her?"
2. Although we understood what he was saying, we didn't know what he meant.
3. Because they had never seen snow in their lives, the tourists took lots of pictures.
4. Everyone believed Harry, except for the minister.
5. George Brown is located in Toronto, Canada.
6. I would never eat raw meat, no matter what.
7. Marley was waving her brand-new, fresh hot-off-the-presses diploma as she greeted her family happily.
8. Ms. Smith has proven herself to be a kind, organized, and fair supervisor.
9. On March 19, 1644, two hundred members of the Peking royal family committed suicide.
10. On the second day of training, I learned how to enter records into the computer system.
11. People use cars not only to commute, but also to communicate.
12. Stanley, however, had never been to the hospital.
13. Taking the time to learn a second language has a lot of advantages, such as improved brain function, career opportunities, and greater cultural understanding.
14. The athlete said he was injured, yet no paramedics came to help him.
15. The house in the picture, which was the very same one I grew up in, was torn down last year.
16. The nurse saw that the patient was in pain, so she recommended more pain medication.
17. They arrived on time, but the teacher marked them absent.
18. This is your assignment, isn't it?
19. Under the scrutiny of the assessors, the student tried to remember everything that she had studied.
20. Unless I receive a higher salary, I will not continue working here.
21. Walking around the room, I felt like everyone was watching me very closely.
22. We retraced our steps, looking everywhere for the lost cell phone.
23. You can get help with grammar, writing, and references when you come to the TLC.
24. Your references were accurate, and you proofread your essay before handing it in.
25. I'm hungry; Let's eat, Grandpa.
26. After we found out he lied about his credentials, we asked him to leave.